HANCOCK GRAND JURY FILES REPORT AFTER SUCCESSFUL SESSION

Examined Fifty-Nine Witnesses—Returns Eight Indictments—Many Matters Referred to Justice of the Peace And Other Local Officials.

Hancock County's Grand Jury for the Fall Term of Circuit Court, 1939, adjourned this week after being in session for five days, and presented its report to Judge L. C. Corban, after examining many witnesses and investigating conditions in and around the county. The report is signed by Russell E. Lott, foreman, and follows in full:

Hon. L. C. Corban, Circuit Judge:
We, the Grand Jury, empaneled at and for the September 1939 term of the Circuit Court of Hancock County, beg to make our report.

We have been in session 5 days, have examined 59 witnesses, and returned 8 indictments.

We have thoroughly investigated every matter brought to our attention and we have returned true bills in such cases as we believed there was sufficient evidence to warrant such action. Some matters brought to our attention and investigated by us were of a serious nature, but the evidence was not sufficient as to the facts constituting the alleged offense to justify the grand jury in returning indictments.

Several offenses alleged to have taken place in the City of Bay St. Louis were investigated by us, but we were unable to obtain sufficient evidence upon which to return indictments, and we have referred these matters to the Justice of the Peace and other local officers for attention, however, none of these matters so referred back to the Justice of the Peace and other local officers appear to be of a serious nature.

The court house and jail appear to be in good condition and well kept. We desire to thank Your Honor for your able instructions to us, and to thank the officers of the County for their assistance. And having finished the business before us we ask to be finally discharged.

RUSSELL LOTT,
Foreman.

Planting and Selection For Fall Gardening.

In fall gardening, the following plants can be obtained now: hibiscus, cleroendron, boxwood, oleander, cherry laurel, waxleaf ligustrum and among annuals snapdragons, petunias, ageratum, cosmos, four o'clock and philodendron.

At this time too, phlox will require heavy feeding and plenty of water, and as the roots are near the surface, a mulch of grass clippings will keep the roots cool and moist and surface feeding of well-rotted manure will provide nourishment and carry the food downward in liquid form. When the leaves are completely withered, the plants should be cut down to within two inches of the ground. Other perennials such as Shasta daisies should be cut down to the ground as soon as the stalks have withered in order to allow better circulation of air for the new growth.

In pruning rose bushes, the growing branches should be cut out as they do not produce roses and spoil the shape of the bush.

Pearl River College To Have Great Year.

With a 19 per cent increase in students over last year and the largest R. O. T. C. enrollment in the history of the school Pearl River College seems to be standing on the threshold of its greatest year.

Mr. Strange, registrar of the college, states that there are six states and 14 counties represented at the college this year.

Of the five counties in the college district, Pearl River leads with 91 students. Marion county is next with 42 students. Lamar county has 27, Jeff Davis, 18, and Hancock 14.

In commenting on the R. O. T. C. Unit, Major King, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, states that the unit has an excellent chance of keeping the honor rating which it received last year. He also states that the cadet officers will be selected in the next two weeks.

There are a few available places at the college for either high school or college students.

STANISLAUS COLLEGE OPENS.

With an unusually large registration, St. Stanislaus College resumed classes on September 8th. In the boarding school, boys are registered from a number of states besides Louisiana and Mississippi and several foreign countries.

GARDEN CLUB HAS MEETING

At Hotel Reed On Tuesday Night—Mr. G. A. Schmidt Of Pass Christian Speaks To Assembly on Zoning

On Tuesday night at the Reed Hotel, the Bay-Waveland Garden Club held its September meeting with a nice attendance and Mrs. Leo Seal presiding. After the minutes of several meetings were read by Mrs. E. Mogabgab, secretary and approved and routine business of the club completed, Mr. W. S. Morrill introduced Mr. G. A. Schmidt, of Pass Christian, as speaker of the evening.

Mr. Schmidt addressed the club on the subject of zoning and stated in part that real zoning is the only means of protecting property and that the Mississippi State Planning Commission, which has made an extensive study of zoning, takes into consideration the type of construction of a building, the amount of space covered, the height and yard space, the classification of buildings, as to whether they are residences, apartment houses or tourist cottages, and the localities and discussed laws restricting the building or different types of buildings in zones specified as business districts, and residential districts.

Mr. Schmidt used as an example the zoning laws of Jackson, Miss., and spoke of the rapid strides and growth of the city which necessitated proper zoning laws. He also spoke of Henderson Point and Pass Christian's zoning and gave a very comprehensive explanation of ways and means for carrying out zoning in the Coast towns.

Mr. Schmidt's talk was well received and Mrs. Seal thanked him.

Shipping In Gulfport Affected By War

An echo of the European war has already been felt in Gulfport as stated by an official of the Port Commission with shipping being hindered to a considerable extent on account of the great increase in insurance rates as required on both cargo and ships, and the demands for greatly increased wages by seamen, due to the perils of ocean commerce. At present the Waterman S. S. Ibberville is loading cargo for the United Kingdom and is the first ship arriving in the harbor in nine days.

MISS. COAST SURVEY FOR OIL SOON TO YEILD DATA STATED.

Reports to be Submitted to State Within the Next Few Weeks.

The first report on geographical work being conducted in the Mississippi Sound preliminary to drilling operations for gas or oil will be submitted to the state within the next two weeks.

Greek L. Rice, state attorney general and member of the Mineral Lease Commission, said the Phillips Petroleum Company was now making geographical surveys of the Gulf waters and will report on their findings as prescribed by the contract awarded several months ago.

Over 750,000 acres of Gulf Sound waters are included in the lease to the petroleum concern for the purpose of locating favorable drilling structures.

If a favorable drilling structure is shown in the report, drilling operations will be started within two months and the lease must surrender all portions of the marine lands which the company does not desire to hold.

General Rice said the report will cover approximately one-fourth of the area under lease.

Meanwhile, other activity in mineral development was spurred this week by an increased flow of oil in the Woodruff Discovery well in Yazoo City county.

H. M. Morse, state oil and gas supervisor, said a permit had been issued M. R. Crabb, Kemper county driller, for a well in the Kemper region near Meridian.

Another well is to be drilled immediately in the Yazoo City county field on the Tinsley Dome by the Union Producing Company, and several independent companies have indicated they planned to drill immediately in the same area.

Activity picked up in northwest Hinds and southwest Madison county early this week, it was understood, when several blocks of acreage were leased between Bolton and Edwards. Drilling operations are expected to be resumed around Flora, in Madison county, where an excellent showing of oil sand was produced in a well later abandoned.

Catholic Faith—Funeral
Well Attended.

On September 11, Louis Netto of Bay St. Louis was conveyed to his last resting place at DeLisle, Miss., by the well known Fahey Undertaking Co.

His funeral was attended by most of his friends of Bay St. Louis and DeLisle. It is friends with a witness of the funeral that Father Sorin delivered on that occasion a remarkable sermon which went deeply to the hearts of the large attendance.

Special notice must be given to the excellent organist of Our Lady of Good Hope Church, Mrs. Napoleon Nease who with the choir, rendered the beautiful hymn, "The Love of Jesus Changeth Not." A song edited and composed by Father Sorin, especially fitted for a funeral. Father Sorin had but a short notice but was ready on time and really delivered a most effective sermon.

Th anti-religious French laws forced him to come to America in 1906. He was stationed in Canada at Notre Dame de Grace, Pointe aux Trembles, and at Woonsocket. In 1909 he came to the United States and was stationed at Bay St. Louis for a period of 13 years and in Muskogee, Oklahoma for 17 years.

FOR READERS TIRED OF WAR.

THERE are probably readers of this newspaper who are sick and tired of the talk of war, who yearn for an article in an editorial column upon some peaceful subject and who wish that editors could get their minds centered upon other matters.

Well, for once, we would be agreeable. Hence, we set about as vigorously as possible, amid the clamor of radio and press dispatches from Europe, to think up a peaceful subject, one far removed from warfare and apt to bring solace to a mind that wants to forget what may be ahead of the human race.

Fishing, we recall, is a sport that, we are told, relaxes. We are not quite certain that we know the full mysteries of the call of the finny tribe, which lures weak men to bend their backs pulling an oar in desolate regions, but, assuming that it is a contemplative sport and that is not responsible for the liars it attracts, we will try to interest our war-weary readers with something peaceful.

From what we can gather the fish that live in and around the mouths of the Panama Canal have their troubles. They have been known to pass through the canal, where water changes from salt to brackish to fresh and back to salt again. This worries many fish, because they are unable to adapt themselves to rapid changes in the salinity and temperatures of the water.

Some of them, we are advised, make the trip changing their homes from the Pacific ocean to the Atlantic, and vice versa. This, the reader may imagine, is quite a hardship upon any fish that loves his surroundings. Some, we imagine, make the trip against their better judgment, being drawn into the process by the devices that man has devised to raise and lower his ships.

We intended to go on with this line of thought a while longer but a business associate perforce acquainted with the details of the article, has just murmured, "There are some things worse than war," and, perhaps he is right!

OCT. 13 EDUCATION DAY AT STATE FAIR.

FRIDAY, October 13, will be Educational Progress Day at the 1939 Mississippi Free State Fair to be held in Jackson October 9-14.

Already, a committee of the State Department of Education, working in cooperation with more than two-score Mississippi educational agencies, is busy on plans for the day.

A score of school bands will go to Jackson for Education Day and all will be given opportunity to play concerts on the exposition grounds as well as on downtown streets.

At noon an Educational Progress luncheon will be held in the State Fair Banquet Hall. A committee will shortly announce the speaker of the occasion—one of America's outstanding leaders in the field of education who is expected to talk about the future of education in America.

School people predict a record-breaking crowd of 50,000 or more will take in the State Fair that day.

USHERING IN FOOTBALL.

ONE of the best signs we know of that Fall is on the way is the ushering in of the football season, says the Daily Herald.

While baseball hangs on and it is true that a World Series is in the offing and there is still sailing, fishing and swimming to claim our interest the thought of a gridiron clash serves as sort of a tonic to pep us up and we wish that summer would hurry up and take its adieu. Blood tingles with the thought of the thud of leather against leather and we are more than happy that the football season is about up on us.

True, football doesn't have the fast action that characterizes basketball. Perhaps it is also true that baseball is the national game, but for unbounded thrills and pure excitement football is the zenith of entertainment.

Yes, we'll settle for a good football game any day, so we'll be glad when the old season is cast off and the new season is ushered in, bringing with it football and crisp cool days and all the fresh vitality of a new day.

NIGHT BLINDNESS SEEN AS CAUSE OF HIGHWAY ACCIDENTS.

STUDY of night highway accidents indicate that a substantial part of them may result from the inability of drivers to adjust their eyes after the blinding light of headlights, according to the Better Vision Institute. This condition is known as "night blindness."

One third of a group of drivers involved in night highway accidents were found to have "night blindness" in varying degrees. Because "night blindness" is not an error in refraction, it cannot be corrected with spectacles. Some cases, however, are aided by a diet rich in vitamin A. The best way for persons with this visual shortcoming to avoid accidents, warns the Institute, is to drive as little as possible at night, and when night driving is necessary, to operate the car slowly and cautiously.

During the year ending March 31, 1939, Mississippi produced a total of 16,652 fifty-gallon barrels of turpentine and 58,639 five-hundred-pound barrels of rosin. Mississippi has about 40 Naval Stores.

TRAGEDY TOO VAST TO UNDERSTAND.

WORDS are inadequate to suggest the horrors of warfare or the suffering of human beings in the struggle. The human mind finds it difficult to realize that millions of men are involved in a death grapple, that the ingenuity of civilized peoples is now being used to promote slaughter and that women and children will inevitably bear a burden of pain that almost transcends belief.

In the United States our people are in tensely interested in the details of the battles, they want to know what has happened.

Somehow, we seem not to comprehend that battles are fought by human beings, that victory means bloody corpses and blasted bodies of husbands, sons and sweethearts.

In the welter of human sufferings what difference does it make if the individual is a misguided German youth, a veteran of France, or a defender of Polish soil? Mankind is once again at grips with death, loosening emotions that blind the intellect and sear the soul. What net profit is there, regardless of what army captures what village, or what general displays his strategy?

The answer to these questions emphasizes the futility of warfare and the shooting guns tell us of the inability of men to solve the problems of their world. Old hates, bitter enmities, present suspicions and future fears combine to make beasts of men. The elemental rages take possession of human beings, who become the victims of their own prejudices, ignorance and follies.

Until human beings become more intelligent, until they become more spiritually-minded, there is little prospect of peace upon the earth. The days of so-called peace will be but the preliminary period in which to prepare for new wars. In time, new "vital" issues will present new crises and the youth of the world will be led to the slaughter house again.

There is nothing to be gained by name-calling, by emotional denunciation of others, by flag-waving and breast-beating.

Soldiers across the water are being killed; women and children are being blasted in their sleep; untold human beings are forestasting the misery of months to come.

Human intelligence has failed to control the motions of men; human frailties have lured new victims to death and the earth and its people will suffer.

Men and women on both sides accept their fate bravely. They play their parts with some degree of nobility, with a prayer on their lips to the God they worship and the conviction in their hearts that He is with him in a fight for honor, truth and justice!

NO WAR THREAT.

THE people of the United States naturally wonder what chance there may be that this country will become embroiled in the war now going on in Europe.

Our own opinion is that there is not much chance. Of course, if other nations come into the fighting the situation will be different.

We do not believe the United States will get into any European war unless and until it appears certain that Great Britain and France will be defeated. This is not indicated in the struggle now going on with Germany.

It may be that German U-Boats will create incidents that will involve the loss of American lives and American ships. It will be entirely a matter for the government here to decide whether these incidents justify the use of armed force by this country. If they do, there will be no necessity for the dispatch of any large army to Europe.

Frankly, the people of the United States might as well recognize the fact that Britain and France are our first line of defense. This does not mean that we must, under all circumstances, defend them. It is only when they are attacked by governments like that of Hitler-dominated Germany that our interests require that the two great democracies be unconquered.

In considering a future world policy for the United States we think it might be a good idea to construct a navy and prepare an army entirely adequate for whatever we adopt as a national policy.

SCHOOLS OPEN

THE schools of Bay St. Louis and Hancock county opened their doors to hundreds of students, who were greeted by the teachers who will have the work of training them for the next nine months.

There will be the first graders, making away from home for their first day in school, the older children and the members of the graduating class, feeling, perhaps, that they have reached the beginning of an era that will be climaxed some time next year when they proudly receive their diplomas.

The span of life, covered by the years between the timid first-grader and the seniors about to end their high school days, is important in the life of any individual. In the school year, however, they are duplicated and repeated every year.

The teachers deserve, as a rule, the cooperation of the public generally and the parents in particular. Those given the control of students for many hours, during a school year, can affect the development of a child and exert considerable influence in unsuspected ways.

We hope that the school year will be profitable to all those connected with our educational system and that there will be nothing to mar the progress of the important work that is being done.

DOMINIONS BACK BRITAIN.

NEWS from Australia, New Zealand, Canada and, apparently, South Africa, indicates that the dominions will make common cause against Germany following the British declaration of war with one of their own.

It seems to us that makes sense. The dominion governments are consulted about British foreign policy, although they are not required to accept it completely. More important to the dominions, however, is that in event of trouble with some unruly neighbor the British fleet can be counted upon to protect any part of the British empire.

THE RED CROSS.

(Vicksburg Post-Herald)

BORN on a battlefield, it seems strange that the Red Cross is now on the battlefield rendering its great humanitarian services at a time when the international organization is celebrating its 75th anniversary.

The Red Cross was formed in 1865 when twelve European nations signed the treaty of Geneva as a result of the labors of many years of Henri Dunt, a Swiss banker, who had been a witness in northern Italy of battles between American, French and Italians. Dunt was horrified to find that the wounded were left to die on the battlefield.

Dunt declared that "an enemy wounded is an enemy no longer," and he devoted the rest of his life teaching this slogan.

Since that day, the Red Cross has become recognized as the greatest international humanitarian organization, dedicated to succor the suffering without regard to creed or color or nationalism or flag. The Red Cross takes no side, it serves all sides. And since the beginning, The Red Cross has spread its work to embrace the needs of sufferers in peace as well as war. In tragic times of earthquakes and storms and floods, the Red Cross is first to rush to the scene to give help.

And thus at the time when the anniversary celebration of this great international humanitarian organization was at its height, and the eyes of the whole world were turned toward its history and its accomplishments, the Red Cross finds its efforts again directed to the saving of life and the relieving of suffering on the battlefield.

Who knows but that this new war may be its greatest trial, since the instruments of death are vastly more terrible in this war than they have ever been before.

But there is consolation in the knowledge that whatever comes, whatever fate overtakes the struggling armies on the battlefields of Europe, the great international organization of the Red Cross is even now on the scene, organized better than ever before to carry on with its humanitarian ministrations.

KEEP OUT OF IT.

(Neshoba Democrat)

ABOVE all, let the United States keep out of the European conflict.

It is not our quarrel or our war.

Let us not get our sympathies worked up to such a pitch as to warp our judgment and reason.

We came out the little end of the horn in 1918, with 14 billions of dollars in war debts owing to us by Europe, our own huge war expense, and thousands of lives lost.

Let this nation guard well its neutrality.

Let us be sure that greedy munitions makers do not stage another Lusitania event by trying to ship contraband of war.

We should see to it that

..Hollywood Notes..

REGINALD Denny, one of the screen's most prominent figures for a number of years, has been signed for the important role of Frank Crawley in the forthcoming production of "Rebecca."

Jane Withers, chubby little star, who arrived in Hollywood five years ago from Atlanta, Ga., has successfully passed the "gawky" stage and her studio, Twentieth-Century-Fox now plan Tarkington-like romances for her coming pictures. Her current production is "Chicken Wagon Family."

A great cast of opera singers will join Ilona Massey, who is co-starring with Nelson Eddy in MGM's "Balalaika," in her singing interpretation of the "Scheherazade" ballet. Among them are Ira Petina, of the Met; Sigurd Lidsen, David Laughlin and Douglas Beattie.

Don Ameche will have the role of Stephen Foster and Andrea Leeds the feminine lead in Twentieth-Century-Fox's "Swanee River."

John M. Stahl, Universal director, is probably the most natty attired director in the business. He appears for work in a neat gray business suit and a white shirt, instead of the traditional baggy slacks. Not only that, he wears a hat at all times and also carries a cane, which he uses as a directorial implement.

Ann Sheridan, the new "oomph girl" of the films, receives fan mail in volume second only to that received by Errol Flynn and Bette Davis.

Among the budding stars is Linda Rarrel, who made a real hit in Elsa Maxwell's "Hotel For Women."

Walter Brennan is scheduled for the role of Grampa Joad in the film version of "Grapes of Wrath," with Beulah Bondi as Maw Joad. Henry Fonda is to have the lead.

Although under contract to Sam Goldwyn, Walter Brennan has made only two pictures in four years for his home studio, which makes money on him by lending him out to other producers.

MAY BE LIGHT OF FUTURE

The important role of research in the progress and betterment of tomorrow's world is a principal theme in the Highways and Horizons exhibit of General Motors at the New York World's Fair. Above, Ernest Foss, science commentator for the GM "Previews of Progress" stage revue, shows his audience a cold-light tube that picks up light at one end and carries it through to the other while the tube remains cold.

TURKS STAMPS

It may surprise some Americans to know that the Turkish postal authorities have issued a series of six stamps in commemoration of American independence. Two of the stamps show the portrait of Kemal Ataturk and of George Washington, the founders of the Turkish and of the American Democracies. Two other stamps show Ismet Inonu and Franklin Roosevelt, present presidents of the two countries. The other two stamps reproduce the Turkish and American flags.

3,000-YEAR-OLD TRUMPET.

New York.—A classical, fully developed trumpet, called a lur, which archaeologists say was blown as a summons to battle or worship in the Danish Bronze Age more than 3,000 years ago, has attracted thousands of visitors daily to the Danish Pavilion of the New York World's Fair.

Defective Eyesight And Deafness Prevails Widely Asserts Doctor.

One out of every ten people has some hearing defect, and one out of every five school students have defective eyesight, according to Dr. J. A. Milne, Director of County Health Work, State Board of Health. Urging that the right to hear and see be safe-guarded, Doctor Milne says that the majority of cases of impaired hearing can be arrested and cured if detected in time, while three-fourths of the cases of defective vision can be helped if caught in time and carefully treated.

Doctor Milne advises that the first trip to the oculist should be taken before the child enters school for the first time. Defects are often found and corrected at this time, he says, adding, "if nothing is wrong, the trouble and expense are well worth while for the knowledge that everything is all right."

Recommended by the physician are adequate and proper lighting for reading, study, and work, avoiding of intense light, avoiding of infections, and a visit to the oculist at least every two years.

Saying that deafness prevails, widely, Doctor Milne explains, "if you have bunions or a toothache, you usually become aware of the fact with much delay, but deafness may steal upon you without pain and so slowly that you are barely aware of its coming."

The physician points out that ten percent of the population have hearing defects. To prevent ear trouble, he advises that colds be avoided, that children be protected from unnecessary exposure to infectious diseases which frequently settle in the ears; that the ear canal and eardrum be protected from injury with hairpins and other foreign bodies; and that ears and nose be protected from polluted water and careless diving when an individual is swimming.

Doctor Milne recommends that persons already deaf learn lip-reading as the greatest aid in "conquering their fears and ears."

Reports by 224 department stores had a decline of 15 per cent in installment sales in 1938.

It was damaged by a recent fire.

Also very much present are twenty lissome Petty Girls, selected by artist George Petty to show moviegoers what his magazine Petty Girl should look like in the flesh. No Sultan of Turkey ever looked on a lovelier beauty brigade than that which appears with Jack in the big harem sequence. Incidentally, in this sequence the Merriel Abbott dancers do what are said to be the most amazing acrobatic routines ever seen on the screen.

For the musical interludes, "Man About Town" presents three songs which are already in the hit class. They are "Strange Enchantment," and "That Sentimental Sandwich," by Frederick Hollander and Frank Loesser, and a novelty number, "Fidgety Joe," by Matty Malneck and Frank Loesser.

JACK BENNY STARS IN GAY NEW FILM AT A. & G. SUNDAY-MON.

In "Man About Town"—Big Production Abounding in Hilarious Gags, And Nonsense.

America's undisputed king of comedy on the screen and on the air lanes, none other than Jack Benny, has the best role of his screen career in the gay comedy, "Man About Town," a big production abounding in hilarious gags, amorous nonsense, pretty girls, new hit songs, sensational dancing by "Rochester" and the Merriel Abbott Dancers, and everything needed for rib-rocking fun. Produced by Arthur Hornblow, Jr., the "Ziegfeld of Hollywood," directed by Mark Sandrich, it will be presented locally on Sunday and Monday at the A. & G. Theater.

Co-starred with Dorothy Lamour and Edward Arnold, Jack plays the role of an American theatrical impresario who is planning to present a show in London. Miss Lamour plays the singing star of the troupe. Jack's in love with her, but she doesn't exactly reciprocate the feeling. Round Edward Arnold is cast as a far too busy business man whose wife encourages Jack to make her husband jealous. Jack, in turn, shows an interest in her in order to arouse jealousy in Dorothy's heart.

With a smoothly written story by Morrie Ryskind, author of such screen successes as "My Man Godfrey" and "Stage Door," the picture leaps from one hilarious situation to another. Jack constantly finding himself in situations adroitly designed to evoke every kind of laughter from a snicker to the heartiest of belly-laughs. Involved in these proceedings in important supporting roles are Binnie Barnes, as Edward Arnold's wife, Phil Harris, as an orchestra leader, Betty Grable as a chorus girl "Rochester," as Jack's valet, E. E. Clive as a butler, and Matty Malneck and His Orchestra.

And by the way, "Rochester" who makes his screen debut with his radio boss in this picture, comes through with two eccentric dance routines which are being rated as nothing short of sensational.

Also very much present are twenty lissome Petty Girls, selected by artist George Petty to show moviegoers what his magazine Petty Girl should look like in the flesh. No Sultan of Turkey ever looked on a lovelier beauty brigade than that which appears with Jack in the big harem sequence. Incidentally, in this sequence the Merriel Abbott dancers do what are said to be the most amazing acrobatic routines ever seen on the screen.

For the musical interludes, "Man About Town" presents three songs which are already in the hit class. They are "Strange Enchantment," and "That Sentimental Sandwich," by Frederick Hollander and Frank Loesser, and a novelty number, "Fidgety Joe," by Matty Malneck and Frank Loesser.

When your son or daughter is away at school, does your guiding influence remain at home?

As boys and girls leave for schools and colleges, homes are made lonely and the young people face homesickness and separation from the guiding influence of home.

The affectionate, sympathetic understanding present in home-life is difficult to maintain by letters, but by telephone, home ties can be kept alive and warm. Telephone visits at regular intervals with children away at school are as intimate as though the children were at home with you. They'll be happier, and do better work. And what a joy these inexpensive voice-visits will be to you.

The best plan is to arrange for your boy or girl to call home "collect" at regular intervals at a particular time. Then by using Station-to-Station service after 7 P. M. or at any time on Sundays, you can talk 100 miles for 35c, 200 miles—65c, and greater distances at correspondingly low cost.

61,954 Farm Boys and Girls Enrolled in State's 4-H Club, Says J. E. Tanner.

Mississippi's 4-H Club enrollment reached the all-time high of 61,954 in 1939, according to figures recently made available by J. E. Tanner, state boys 4-H Club agent, and Miss Elaine Massey, state girls 4-H club agent, State College, Mississippi.

The 1939 enrollment compares with a total of 59,684 in 1938. In Mississippi 69.3 per cent of the white boys enrolled in 1938 re-enrolled in 1939 while in the United States as a whole only 62.2 per cent of the 1938 enrollment re-enrolled in 1939.

Another significant fact is that ten years ago only 24.2 per cent of our club members had been in the club work three or more years while in 1938 42.5 per cent of the 4-H club boys had been in the work three or more years.

This year's membership is made up of 29,006 boys and 32,948 girls, representing 2,797 organized clubs. Club work in the counties is under the direction of county agents, assistant county agents, and home demonstration agents.

Through the 4-H clubs, these rural boys and girls carry on practical and worthwhile projects in farm and home improvement. There has been a decided increase in 4-H livestock and conservation projects during recent years. The enrollment this year is as follows: Pig, 9,760; poultry, 2,721; beef cattle, 1,250; dairy cattle, 1,197; colt, 249; and forestry, 1,280.

Leading projects for girls show the following enrollment: home improvement, 12,978; clothing, 24,914; garden-canning, 16,409; foods, 21,022 and poultry 7,807.
